DYSPEPSIA.
IS that misery experienced when we suddenly become aware that we possess a diabolical arrangement called a stomach. The stomach is the reservoir from which every fibre and tissue must be nourished, and any trouble with it is soon felt throughout the whole system. Among a dozen dyspeptics no two will have the same predominant symptoms. Dyspeptics of active mental power and a bilious temperament are subject to Sick Headache; those, fleshy and phlegmatic have Constipation, while the thin and nervous are abandoned to gloomy forebodings. Some dyspeptics are wonderfully forgetful; others have great irritability of temper.
Whatever form Dyspepsia may take, one thing is certain,
The underlying cause is in the LIVER, and one thing more is equally certain, no one will remain a dyspeptic who will

It will correct Acidity of the Stomach, Expel foul gases, Allay Irritation, Assist Digestion, and, at the same time
"My wife was a confirmed dyspeptic. Some three years ago by the advice of Dr. Steiner, of Augusta, she was induced to try Simmons Liver Regulator. I feel grateful for the relief it has given her, and may all who read this and are afflicted in any way, whether chronic or otherwise, use Simmons Liver Regulator and I feel confident health will be restored to all who will be advised."—WM. PIANOS.
GAINED FIRST PREMIUM FOR GREATEST merit at the New Orleans Cotton Centennial and WORLD'S Exposition for refined and wonderful power of tone, elegance of design, and superb finish. Only piano endorsed by United States commissioners, from each of the States. Cases finest carved, rosewood finish finest imported double repeating action—three strings throughout of best patent steel wire—keys best ivory. Our new patent steel tuning device, instead of wood, is the greatest invention ever made in pianos. It consists of stationary STEEL tuning pins that are set in a mold and molten STEEL is run round the pins keeping them solidly in place. A thimble or shell pin is made to exactly fit the stationary pin revolving therein: thus the strings wind round the pins. After the strings are properly stretched the piano can never get out of tune, the rest plank being of STEEL not affected by extremes of climate. This will be be appreciated by all musicians in city or country. It will stand twenty years without tuning and is good for 100. No other piano has this improvement.
Great strength and durability is another advantage. In other pianos holes are bored in wooden boards and tuning pins inserted. The pins turn round in this board and cannot stand permanently in tune, and it often cracks, splits, dry-s out, becoming utterly, totally and entirely worthless as a musical instrument. Our STEEL tuning device is in no way affected by such casualities, and the sounding board is so constructed that our pianos can never become thin or metallic in tone. They are always in tune and the expense of tunning is saved. This patent alone is worth millions and makes our piano the greatest in the world. Prices are no higher than other pianos. Buying direct from us, the largest manufacturers, you save $100 or $200—dealers' profits. Don't mind the ominous growlings of dealers and agents, who see their chances of selling a poor piano at a big profit of $200—slipping away—pity them.
We guarantee our pianos ten years. 200 styles. We have put our prices at lowest bed-rock for Cash
A $600 Piano for $259.50; a $900 Piano for $297.50; a $1200 Piano for $375.50; a $1500 Piano for $475.50.
Upright Cabinet Grands, with stool and rubber cover shipped on board cars at S. F., to any part of the United States, Canada or Mexico. Our terms are cash with order. If not as represented money returned. We occasionally have good second-hand pianos, made over at $100 to $300, which we take in part payment for our own. Write or call for catalogue, free.

RUSSIAN DESPOTISM.

An American Tourist's Impressions of the Czar's Government.

It can not be denied that in some respects Russia is the greatest and most powerful nation in the world, its territory and its population being greater than that of any other on the globe. It occupies more than one-half the area of Europe, and its vast possessions in Asia are three times greater than in Europe. It is a gigantic wonder among nations with its 8,000,000 of square miles of territory, its 100,000,000 of inhabitants and its grand army of 3,000,000 men. But about and around all this glory and greatness hangs rather the barbaric splendor of the Oriental than the culture and progress of the European. The whole country is an armed camp, and at every step and every turn is a soldier in his long gray coat and broad crowned cap, and in this connection it may be mentioned that the cap is the usual head covering in Russia, and hats are seldom seen. Traveling in Russia has many unpleasant features, and one has the feeling, always, that he is not wanted and that he is constantly being watched in all his movements, and the chances strongly are, that he is right in both these suppositions. The Government is very strict in all its dealings with foreigners, and no one is admitted to the country without a passport which has been vised by some Russian Consul. And whenever the traveler arrives in any city or stopping place his passport must be immediately surrendered to the authorities. It is not returned until his departure, and he is not allowed to leave the country without a permit written on the back of his passport. Mine was taken from me so frequently, examined and duly stamped, and a fee always charged for it, that I regard is as about the most expensive document I ever possessed. You never know in Russia likewise who reads your letters before you get them or after you mail them, and no foreign newspapers are delivered until after the authorities have read them and blotted out the objectionable passages with heavy black ink so that they can not be read. There is no liberty of speech or freedom of action. The Czar is absolute, and tyranny and oppression reign everywhere. In such a country it is not strange that Nihilism flourishes, and if there is any excuse for the Nihilist anywhere, it is here in Russia, and I can well comprehend that a man might be a Nihilist here, who in any other country would be a constitutional agitator and advocate. The policy of the Government practically prohibits any middle-ground, and drives many men finally into Nihilism, who would otherwise be patriots, working out the salvation of their country by peaceable methods. Scarcely any one in Russia speaks English, and the Englishman is viewed with great disfavor, all realizing that it is only a question of a few years when the two countries will be at war with each other. I always took especial pains to let it be known that I was an American, and not an Englishman; French is spoken almost entirely in the houses of the aristocracy, and is usually the language of the home among them, rather than the harsh and irregular Russian, but the masses are more familiar with German than any other foreign language, a natural result of the proximity of the two countries. As Russia is different in every thing, so her coinage and measures of distances do not correspond with those of other European governments. Distances are measured by "versts" (two-thirds of a mile), and "arshins" (twenty inches), and the coinage is divided into "roubles" and "kopecks." The kopeck is about one-half a cent of our money, while the present paper rouble equals fifty cents. The silver rouble is worth more, but coin is practically driven out of circulation now, as the country is in a terrible financial condition, and is suffering all the evils of a badly-depreciated and inflated paper currency.

Expansion of Bridges.

A good deal had been said about the effects of expansion and contraction in connection with the Forth Bridge, due to changes of temperature. Mr. Baker, one of the engineers, recently remarked before the British Association that a large amount of consideration had been given to the question, and a great many observations had been taken on the subject. Pockets were formed in the structure, and these were made to contain water in which thermometers were placed. It was really surprising how great an effect the different conditions had in this respect. That the two sides of the large twelve feet tubes should be materially affected when one was in the sun and the other shaded was to be anticipated, but one would hardly expect that one tube would shelter another one hundred and twenty feet distant so as to materially affect it, but such was the case.—Boston Budget.

—"You must practice economy, young man," said the old gentleman; "you are altogether too extravagant." "I do practice economy;" was the response; "I only ate a bowl of bread and milk to-day for my lunch." "That looks better," commented the father, somewhat mollified. "What did it cost you? ten cents?" "Well, I had to give the waiter half a dollar, father."

—A teamster hauling a load of marble in Vermont fell asleep and then fell off his load and was badly injured. "He dreamt he dwelt in marble halls."—Detroit Free Press.

THE INDIAN ARROW POISON.

A Most Interesting and Curious Drug. Effects Upon Animals—No Antidote.

Curare or curara, or arrow poison, is a most interesting and curious drug, belonging to the class neurotics. It is a juice or extract from the bark of a creeping vine indigenous to Guiana and Central America, and is largely used by the Indians as an arrow poison for killing game and in war.

The Indians prepare the poison with great secrecy and mystery, mixing the extract of the vine with other herbs, red and black ants, and the powdered fangs of a venomous serpent. It is then boiled over a slow fire until the liquid is brown and of a very bitter taste, when it is poured into a small vessel and kept in a cool, dry place. When ready for use the extract is very soluble in water, and is therefore very diffusible when introduced into a wound, being quickly dissolved by the blood and rapidly carried into the circulation, producing stupor and paralysis.

The Indians prepare a number of arrows at a time previous to a battle or a hunting expedition. They are prepared by dipping the point of the arrow into the glutinous, semi-solid poison and twisting it about until a sufficient quantity of the extract has adhered to the tip, when they are laid aside to dry.

Mr. Hirt, in The London Medical Gazette, states that he found the extract to retain its poisonous properties for a period of twenty-seven years, but must be kept in a dry place. Bernard, a traveler in British Guiana, writes that he found some which had been loosely on the tip of an arrow for fifteen years and which still retained sufficient virulence to kill an animal in a few minutes. The poison begins its effect upon an animal, wounded with an arrow prepared as described, in from one to three minutes with convulsions, the animal apparently suffering no pain, death ensuing in four or five minutes. The poison does not hasten stupefaction in the tissues of the animal, as is the case with snake poison, and its flesh is used as food by the Indians without any bad effects.

A traveler in Central America describes an experiment in which three arrows were introduced beneath the skin of an ox. For four minutes there was no effect, then it set itself firmly on its four legs as if to resist falling and remained quite still for fourteen minutes; it then attempted to walk, but stumbled and fell, the eyes became fixed, dim and apparently insensible to light; there were convulsions in the limbs, labored breathing and frothing at the mouth. After convulsions in the limbs had ceased there was still some motion of the heart at intervals. In twenty-five minutes from the introduction of the poisoned arrows the animal was dead. The flesh was eaten, but it had acquired no peculiar flavor or odor from the poison and gave rise to no unpleasant symptoms.

A curious fact about curara thus prepared is that it is inert when swallowed into the stomach and must be introduced directly into the blood or circulation (hypodermically, as it were) in order to kill. The reason for this is doubtless that the fluids of digestion, particularly the acid gastric juice, change the chemical composition of the poison by reaction upon it, rendering it inert before it can become digested and reach the circulation of the blood.

The poison appears to have no action on the heart, as it continues its pulsations for a time after respiration has ceased. From one grain and a half to two grains suffices to kill rabbits, and a much smaller quantity operates fatally by hypodermic injection.

There is no known antidote to the effects of curara. The only hope of saving life is to ligate strongly the wounded limb between the wound and the heart and making free and rapid excisions of the part, or, more radically, the amputation of the entire limb as far above the wound and ligature as possible.

An alkaloid called curarina has been isolated from curara; it operates in the same way as the latter, but more powerfully; paralyzes the voluntary muscles by its effect on the anterior roots of the spinal nerves, destroying motor power. It answers to the same chemical tests as strychnia, but differs from it somewhat in action.—Philadelphia Times.

If Appetites Were Normal.

A raven perched on the bough of a tree croaks its harsh welcome. It does not tell me what Poe's raven told him, but I daresay the difference is not in the birds. Poe had a bad stomach. I have one that I need never insure. If Poe had been healthier he would have been happier. An old physician said to me once: "Hell is an eternal gout." A witty and venerable doctor of divinity remarked in my hearing on a certain occasion: "Health is heaven." He was suffering from toothache at the time. I wonder what the effect would be, morally I mean, if everybody was healthy. Suppose the sick should all become well, the weak strong, the cripples be cured, those dying from pains be delivered therefrom, they without appetites become good eaters, the people with morbid tastes become normal in their cravings—I wonder what would happen?—W. H. H. Murray's Letter.

Farming by Gaslight.

Howard county farmers residing in the vicinity of the great Shrader gas well, near Kokomo, Ind., go on record as harvesting the first wheat by natural gaslight. A dozen self binders and men shocking wheat was truly a novel scene, which was witnessed by hundreds of people, who surrounded the fields of grain in carriages. The constant roar of the Shrader well can be distinctly heard eight miles away, while the light can be plainly seen at Burlington, fifteen miles west of here. The estimated flow of gas from this well is 15,000,000 cubic feet every twenty-four hours.—Indianapolis Journal.

Probably an Exaggeration.

Color blindness is twice as common among Quakers as it is among the rest of the community, owing to their having dressed in drab for generations and thus disused the color sense.

It is said that hawks are frequently seen flying southward on the approach of winter, but are never seen on the return flight, though found again in the north when the winter is past.

A DRUMMER'S DOINGS.

Sometimes drummers play the most amusing and original tricks. Not long ago a drummer for a St. Louis hardware house started out. He was a giant in strength. He had two strong grips made, and in them he put up iron samples weighing about 135 pounds each. He would alight from a train with his two innocent-looking grips, and the hotel porter would make a rush for him.

"Right this way for the Hardcase House. Carry your grips up to the hotel, boss?"

"Yes," Smith would say. The drummer was really named Smith. He would then hand the two grips to that porter, and let go as soon as he saw the unsuspecting victim had hold of them. There would be a wild flourish of feet, a loud crash, and the porter would go down like he had been shot.

"What in thunder are you throwing my grips around in that manner for?" Smith would yell, as if mad. The porter would jump up, thinking he had stumbled, apologize, and make a grab at the grips. Then he would pull away, and his eyes would look out, and he would strain until his suspender straps would break, and then he would say:

"O, well, if you don't want to carry them, I'll go to the other hotel. Then calling the other porter he would give them to him. Of course, the other fellow would take hold of them with a smile and firm grip, only to go down on the platform in defeat with a thump. Then he would rise, look at the grip, gaze at Smith awhile, then, leave, muttering something about voodooism. Smith would then throw them into a wagon, and go on up to a hotel. At the door he would call a bell boy, and as he pushed his way through the crowd, he would hand them to the poor, overworked boy, and the crowd would be astonished to see him go down with those grips, the fall making a noise that sounded like a freight train wreck, and shook the house. Smith would pick them up himself, and remark to the landlord that it was a shame to overwork his help in any such manner, and then he would walk towards the register, and the landlord would rush up to him and say:

"Why, them boys are lazy. Here, give me your grips, sir," and he would take them. Of course, Smith's remarks attracted all eyes, and as the landlord got a good hold of the handles, Smith would let go suddenly. The spectators would be astonished to see the landlord's back suddenly hump itself like a cat on the back fence, his eyes bulge out like marbles on a mud wall, and then see him fall full length between those grips, with a crash that brought people out across the way. He would get up slowly, rub his back, walk around the grips, and then go off and swear, as Smith would take them up and put them on the counter. Then the fun would begin. The clerk grabbed one of them to set it off the counter and it wouldn't move. He looked astonished, and then spit on his hands and tried to lift it, as his face turned red, and knots swelled upon his forehead. But that grip wouldn't move. Then all the crowd would try their hand, and finally all swore it was some trick. Smith would then lift it off gently, and ask them what ailed them. This would make the crowd feel of his arms, and they found out they had muscles like cocoanuts for size and rocks for hardness. Then it dawned on them that Smith had heavy grips for a sell, and they were correct. That was the way Smith advertised his house. It was a success, too. He would put a grip on an empty seat in front of him in a car, and be tickled almost to death at the efforts of people to lift it off when the car was crowded. But no one ever succeeded. Ladies would take hold of it, and only let go when things began to snap around their clothing with a noise that attracted the attention of the car. A big passenger would think to make an impression on a pretty girl, and rush over to remove that grip, and fail over the seat trying to move it, and would be mad as thunder when Smith would move it easily and gently, and remark:

"Must have had a long spell of sickness, to make you so weak, sir."

Conductors have gone almost crazy at the spectacle they have made of themselves in trying to move one of those grips for ladies, and at being unable to do so except with the help of the brakeman and porter, and to see Smith lift both of them, and guy them for being to young to trust away from home. Smith doesn't travel now, as he made enough while thus advertising that house to go in business for himself, and has married. He weighs over three hundred, is tall, and strong as an oak. But he created a sensation while he did travel. And no drummer has ever imitated his style of advertising, either.—The Colonel.

A Woman of Genius.

"Miss Symperson has written a beautiful poem which is being copied in all the papers," remarked an Austin lady to Kosciusko Murphy.

Murphy—The young lady seems to have talent.

Miss S.—I should say she had talent. She can compose music, she can talk French and Italian, she paints, and next month she is going to marry a man with a quarter of a million. Talent is no name for it. She has positive genius.—Texas Siftings.

THE principle of law of once a public street or square always a public street or square has again been upheld by the United States Supreme Court in the case of Milo Hoadley vs. the City and County of San Francisco. This action was brought by plaintiff eighteen or twenty years ago to obtain possession of several plazas or public squares in that city. The main ground upon which Mr. Hoadley based his action was the statute of limitations, he claiming to have had absolute possession of the property from 1850 up to the time the action was brought. Upon the trial in the Twelfth District Court, Judge Daingerfield presiding, he won his case, but upon an appeal by the city to the Supreme Court, the judgment was reversed and the case was remanded for a new trial. In passing upon the merits of the Hoadley claim, as to the statute of limitations, the Supreme Court said that the "premises were parts of public squares; the people of the State are entitled to their occupation and to freely pass and repass. All citizens have an easement in a public square, and therefore the plaintiff's possession is simply the possession of the public, and the statute will not run. His or any man's occupation of a public square, with fences or other obstructions, is a public nuisance, a thing which length of time cannot legalize. Public rights are not destroyed by long-continued encroachments."

TESTIMONY before the Senate Committee, appointed to investigate the affairs of the Cotton Seed Oil Trust, brought out the fact that 27½ per cent of cotton seed oil manufactured in the United States is exported to France and Italy and in time comes back to us labeled pure (?) olive oil. This is the miserable stuff that has been used on the tables of the American people for years, nine-tenths of whom never tasted pure olive oil in their lives, and probably never will until the imitation is driven out of the market by the California product, which in a few years will be manufactured on a large scale in Sonoma Valley and other sections of the State. Many in this valley are engaging in olive culture and it is only a question of time when the olive and the vine will be contending for the mastery as the chief products of our fertile valley.

SENATOR SHERMAN of Ohio, from the Senate Committee on Foreign Affairs, on Wednesday reported favorably, with amendments, Senator Stewart's bill to amend the Chinese Restriction Act. Accompanying the bill was a resolution declaring that it is the sense of the Senate that the President should negotiate a new treaty with China to obsolutely prohibit Chinese immigration.

THE Supreme Court has denied the motion for a rehearing in the Sharon case and the findings of Judge J. F. Sullivan that the marriage between Senator Sharon and Miss Hill was a valid one are again sustained by that tribunal. The failure of Sharon's attorneys to reopen the case makes Judge Sullivan's decision final.

IT is estimated that 30,000 American women were in Europe last summer and autumn. Twenty thousand American men went along with the majority to pay their expenses.

COL. J. MERVYN DONAHUE is mentioned as the Democratic candidate for Congress in the district now represented by Mr. McKenna.

ARRANGEMENTS have been made for a prize-fight between Sullivan and Mitchell. The stakes, $2,500 each, have been put up.

FRESNO will make an effort to secure the Democratic State Convention.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

[From our Regular Correspondent.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24, 1888.

The Senate having removed the injunction of secrecy from the Fisheries treaty, the most notable thing done by that body this week was to debate for more than an hour the policy of considering the document with open doors. So radical a departure from time-honored precedents awakened bitter opposition from a number of influential Senators, but there have also been a number of prominent converts to the open session movement of late. It is predicted that the secret sessions, except where affiamative reasons exist for secrecy, will not last many months longer.

Senator Teller made a vigorous plea for open sessions recently. He argued that no deparment in this Government had any business to have secrets from the public, unless it were the State Department, pending treaty negotiations, or something of that kind. He said every decision made by the head of a department, every adjudication made by the head of a bureau ought to be an open book for the people of the United States to read and examine. He held that secret sessions were un-republican; that there was no more reason for considering the confirmation of executive appointments behind closed doors than for legislating behind closed doors; that it was one of the essentials of a free people that they should know what their public servants are doing, and he mentioned that even the Supreme Court publicly recorded the action of each Justice on each question.

Probably the most notable thing done by the House this week was to defeat by a vote of 129 to 128 the Hoar resolution changing Inauguration Day to the 30th of April, and extending the short session of Congress to that date. It now remains to be seen what the Senate and House together will do with the Crain resolution providing that Congress shall meet on the first of January after the election.

The deepest interest and sympathy is felt here over the condition of Mr. W. W. Corcoran, the venerable and beloved Washington philanthropist, whose long and useful career is rapidly nearing its close. No hope is entertained of his recovery from his present illness, and, ere this reaches you, you will probably know of his death.

The coming Washington Constitutional Centennial and World's Exposition of 1889 and 1892 have now received approval and endorsement from the governors of thirty-seven States and territories, the mayors of fifty-two cities, the presidents of 153 boards of trade, from thirty-three state granges, from thirty state agricultural societies, and various other bodies. The Central and South American republics have made known their intention of taking an active part in forwarding the Expositions, the Government of Spain has taken official action to the same end, and Italy has signified her intention of joining in the celebration.

The Board of Promotion does not ask for an appropriation for the exposition of 1892 from Congress. All they ask is the use of the ground. When the time comes the states and territories will be asked to appropriate $100,000 each to erect their buildings. The $800,000 asked for in the bill for the Constitutional Centennial is to be devoted, it is said, to the entertainment of the Presidents, Chief Justices and Ministers of the fifteen Spanish-American Republics who will be here as the guests of the Government during the celebration.

As Wednesday, the 22d, was the birthday of the "Father of his Country", the United States gave itself entirely to patriotism. All other business was dispensed with for the reading of Washington's Farewell Address. This performance was executed in a very creditable manner by Senator Ingalls of Kansas, the President of the Senate, while the Senate showed its respect by attending in unusually large numbers and listening attentively.

By the time you read this you will know all about the proceedings of the Democratic convention held here during the week to decide the time and place for the meeting of the Presidential nominating convention, consequently it is unless to dwell on the subject.

THE Lachman California Wine Company has filed articles of incorporation. The Directors are Samuel Lachman, Albert Lachman, Henry Lachman and Leo Metzer of San Francisco, and Hamilton W. Crabb of Oakville, Napa county. Capital stock, $1,250,000; subscribed, $1,073,900. The object is to plant and conduct vineyards.

THE new premium map of California and Nevada, just issued by the San Fracisco Call, is a credit to the leading daily of San Francisco. A close inspection of the map will show that it is one of the most accurate reference maps of California and Nevada ever published. It shows every railroad, postoffice and town in those States and is printed in a very attractive shape. It ought to adorn the wall of every office and dwelling in the State.

The Apple Tree Borer.

Many thousands of young trees are annually destroyed by the common round-headed apple tree borer, saperda bivittata, of the orchardists, and yet this great loss is due to negligence. The parent of the borer named is a handsome long-horned beetle, nearly an inch long, the upper side of the body being marked with two longitudinal white stripes between three of brown; the other parts of the body and legs are white. This beetle usually appears in spring, about the same time that apple trees come into full bloom. They fly at night, hiding during the daytime, consequently are rarely seen about the orchard, except by persons who know where to look for their hiding places. The female beetle deposits her eggs on the stems of the trees near the ground, where the bark has been shaded and become soft, thereby facilitating the entrance of the young grubs so soon as they are hatched from the eggs. The grubs bore through the bark and into the sap-wood, where they remain feeding three or four years before reaching maturity and emerge as full-grown beetles. When they have once entered the tree it is quite evident that no outward applications of insecticides will reach them, and they must be cut out with a knife, gouge, or some similar instrument, if they are to be destroyed at all. The presence of grubs in a tree can usually be detected by the sawdust-like excrement which they push out of burrows while feeding. It is better, however, to prevent the entrance of the grub than to be obliged to severely wound the tree by cutting them out. The grubs usually take an upward direction from the point of entrance, but sometimes they will go across the grain of the wood, and in this case nearly or quite girdle the young tree. The best time to cut out the grubs is in the fall, for at this season those hatched in spring or early summer have not penetrated any considerable depth into the solid wood, and are, therefore, readily found and destroyed. To prevent the beetles depositing their eggs in the bark of the trees, it is only necessary to wrap the base of the stems with strips of bass bark, tar paper, cloth or even common brown paper, after which the outside should be painted with gas tar applied hot. The wrappings should extend down two or three inches below the soil and extend up the stem a foot or more. A few hours' work given to wrapping the trees with some such material as these named will usually prevent loss by the attacks of borers. The trees, however, should be examined every spring after removing the wrappers, for the purpose of destroying any grubs that may have found a lodgment in the tree, after which the old wrapper should be replaced or new ones provided. Washing the stems of trees with soft soap at the time the beetles are about and laying their eggs is often recommended, and while it must be admitted that such applications are beneficial in destroying the recently deposited eggs and repelling the beetles, still they are soon washed off by rains and are only temporary in effect—American Agriculturist.

OPEN LETTERS.

I was greatly troubled with my liver and kidneys and pains in the back, and found no relief till I began taking Joy's Sarsaparilla. It has helped me wonderfully. I gratefully recommend it to all those afflicted as I have been.

MRS. LOMBARD, Santa Clara, Cal.

For a long time I was troubled with liver complaint. I tried many liver and kidneys cures without effect. My attention was finally called to Joy's vegetable Sarsaparilla, as being not only a splendid blood purifier, but an infallible liver and kidney remedy. I took a course of it and it effected a complete cure.

JAMES LICK, 708 Montgomery st., San Francisco, Cal.

For several years I suffered from dyspepsia and kidney complaint, so severe at times that I could not attend to my work. My appetite became poor, and I was much emaciated. Joy's vegetable Sarsaparilla and Kidney cure completely restored my health.

JOHN MCLELLAN, Redding, Cal.

I suffered for years acutely from dyspepsia, and became greatly reduced and despondent. Satisfied at last my trouble was of a scrofulous nature, I began taking Joy's Sarsaparilla, and believe it saved my life. My appetite and digestion are now good, and I feel like a new man.

JAMES WELLS, Oakdale, Cal.

In 1882 I took a severe cold in my head that resulted in chronic catarrh of the most objectionable kind. I tried doctors and many so-called specifics, but found no relief till I commenced taking Joy's vegetable Sarsaparilla. After two bottles I noticed improvement, and the sixth destroyed all traces of the disease. C. W. LEONARD, Colusa, Cal.

I suffered for years from catarrh till it destroyed my appetite and weakened my system. No remedies gave me relief till I commenced using Joy's Sarsaparilla. I began taking it last Spring, and am now entirely free from that disgusting disease.

LIZZIE A. HALL, Mojave, Cal.

I had a dangerous cough. Nothing relieved it till I commenced taking Joy's vegetable Sarsaparilla. It began to grow milder and more disconnected, and one morning about two weeks afterwards it suddenly occurred to me that I had not coughed for several days, and I am now entirely without it.

Ask for Joy's Sarsaparilla.

Unlike most so-called blood purifiers, it does not employ mercurials or other dangerous minerals, but is a compound of powerful extracts and concentrated juices of vegetable alteratives indigenous to California. It is a fortunate combination of the very finest blood purifier, liver and kidney remedy and stomach regulator in existence.

Prepared only by the Edwin W. Joy Company, San Francisco, Cal. Price, $1 per bottle; six for $5. For sale by all druggists.

From its marvelous power over this terribly fatal disease, when first offering this now world-famed remedy to the public, Dr. Pierce thought seriously of calling it his "CONSUMPTION CURE," but abandoned that name as too restrictive for a medicine which, from its wonderful combination of tonic, or strengthening, alterative, or blood-cleansing, anti-bilious, pectoral, and nutritive properties, is unequaled, not only as a remedy for Consumption, but for all Chronic Diseases of the

Home-Seekers and Sonoma Valley.

Sonoma Valley is attracting a great deal of attention of late, as is evidenced by the large number of wealthy strangers who have visited this section the past month in quest of homes. Many of these will locate here. To visit Sonoma Valley once produces an intense longing in the human breast to become permanently located in the vale that teems with health, atmosphere, climate and refined society. The peculiar geographical situation of Sonoma Valley renders it free from fogs and high winds, and there is no more desirable home for the invaled on the Pacific Coast. As to the productiveness of our soil there is no better evidence wanting of its capabilities than the fact that Sonoma Valley carried off the first premium at the late Mechanics' Fair, as against every county in the State, for the best general display of fruits, wines, cereals, etc.

The Teachers' Institute.

The Board of Education met Saturday as a Committee of the Teachers' Institute and adopted Monday, April 2d, as the time for opening the Institute. The place chosen was Cloverdale, and holding the meeting this Spring is the first departure from the old plan of holding it in the Fall. The change was made as it was deemed the better plan to give the teachers the benefit of the Institute before the year's work fully commenced, since prior to this year the Institute was followed by a long vacation and the ideas lost by not being put into practice. This year's meeting is expected to be exceptionally interesting and instructive. A number of distinguished educators and lecturers will address the meeting.—Santa Rosa Republican.

The Rainfall.

The rainfall for the twenty-four hours ending yesterday at 8 A. M. was 1.15 inches. From that hour up to the time of going to press at 4 P. M. heavy showers fell in the valley at intervals and there was snow on the mountains north and west of town. The barometer at 8 A. M. was 29.78° and the temperature 43°. The total rainfall for the season up to yesterday was 14.93 inches against 17.28 inches for the corresponding time last year. As we go to press indications point to a continuance of the storm.

The Iron Bridge.

The amount so far subscribed toward the construction of the iron bridge across Sonoma creek at the foot of Napa street is said to be about $2000. This leaves a little over $300 yet to be raised to carry the project through. Messrs. Ed. Wegner and Jessie Burris have been working hard the past week to raise the necessary funds and the success so far met with is due in a great measure to their efforts.

"Cooney in the Holler, Ki-yi-Yi!"

Coons raided the barnyard of George Engler, who lives on Sonoma creek one and a half miles from town, one night last month, and made off with nine geese. Since then George has waged a war extermination on the coon tribe and numerous skins of the "pesky critters" now adorn the sides of his barn.

Personal and Social.

Capt. Hauto of the sloop Gazelle was in town last Tuesday.

Miss Blanche Glaister of Green Oaks Vineyard, who has been visiting friends in San Francisco the past three weeks, returned home last Tuesday evening.

Wynne G. Woods, United States Gauger, who is well-known in Sonoma, was united in marriage to Miss Minnie Shore of Sacramento on Wednesday of last week in that city. The young couple received a large number of useful and valuable presents and immediately after the marriage ceremony departed for San Francisco on their honeymoon trip. The future home of Mr. and Mrs. Woods will be Napa City. Among those present at the wedding were the following: Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Shore, Mrs. H. M. Richards, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Smith of Oakland, Mrs. Driscoll, daughter and son, Mrs. A. Phelps, Miss Dora Abrams, Miss Etta Freeman, Miss Mamie Logan, Theodore Shore, Alfred Shore and Gus Sorderer of Napa.

Remember This.

If you are costive or dyspeptic or are suffering from any other of the numerous diseases of the Liver, Stomach or Bowels, it is your own fault if you remain ill, for Simmons Liver Regulator is a sovereign remedy in all such complaints.

A GOD-FORSAKEN COUNTRY.

San Diego as Described by a Disgusted Visitor.

A correspondent of the Healdsburg Enterprise, who recently returned from San Diego, writes thus of the land of horned toads, cactus and alkali water: "When I arrived in San Diego in the early part of August every thing was boom, and it was there I learned what a boom was. Wages were paid from $3 as high as $8 and $9, the highest being paid to plumbers and brick layers. Brass bands were on every street booming some new town; it was then I saw how they sold real estate. They would put a map on the side of a house, with a band in front to draw, and then sell. I have seen $100,000 worth of property sold that way in one day, and some who bought would have to pay a man to show them where their land was. Fruits are very scarce—pears, peaches and apples, 4 or 5 for 25c; oranges, 50c to $1 per dozen; grapes, 15c to 25c a bunch. As all the product you eat is brought there, it is very high. Wood is $12 to $20 a cord; coal, $15 to $20 a ton; board, $8 to $12 a week; room, $15 and upward a month; store rent, $100 and upward a month with a three years' lease. The climate is very similar to San Francisco, but fogs are dryer. The water you can't drink on account of the alkali, which would kill a horse; fish can't live in the streams. You may ride all day and not see a tree, except at one house where there are two oaks, and the pictures sell in town at 50c a piece. Sports and amusements are scarce; quail and duck-shooting is about all, as the cactus is so thick you can't see through it. The way they catch rabbits is to take a hard log, paint an imitation hole on the end and lay it in a trail; the rabbits think it is a hole and butt their brains out. Town lots sell from $1,500 to $200,000. Work is very scarce now. This is the country for a white man to live in, for if you get broke down there you will starve to death. Fare on the steamer, cabin, is $15; steerage, $10; railroad $22; walking very poor—no farm houses on the road."

Glen Ellen Gossip.

Quite a number of excursionists came up on Sunday's train.

The weather is fine and farm work is progressing rapidly.

C. O. Borman and F. Clark of this place visited Sonoma last Sunday.

The roads are now in fine condition, and considerable teaming is going on.

A. Lang of San Francisco, who bottles the Fredricksburg beer, was up last Sunday.

We are sorry to hear that S. P. Johnson of Bennett Valley is down with the measles.

Wm. Sobbe of S. V. R. R. fame, took a flying trip to the county seat last Saturday.

J. H. Drummond is planting out a large olive orchard, the cuttings of which were purchased of Geo. F. Hooper.

Daily inquiries are constantly made here for vacant rooms. Would it not be well for the land owners to erect a few cottages and lease them? OLD TIMER.

Advance in the Prices of Lumber.

The California Lumber Exchange has advanced the prices of certain grades of lumber from 50 cents to $3.50 per thousand feet as follows: Spruce dressed half-inch shelving to 14 inch, $37 50, an advance of $2 50. Dressed redwood, half-inch surfaced boards, $34, an advance of $3; dressed redwood, tongued and grooved, 1x6, 12 feet and over, No. 1, $37 50, an advance of $3 50; the same, other sizes, No. 1, $37 50, an advance of $1 50; the same, 7 to 11, No. 1, $28, an advance of $1; the same, under 7, No. 1, $25, an advance of $1; the same, rustic, No 1, $38 50, an advance of $1; the same, rustic, No. 2, $33 50, an advance of $1; the same, tongued and grooved, beaded, 12 feet and over, No. 1, $37 50, an advance of $1 50; the same, other sizes, No. 1, $37 50, an advance of $1 50; the same, 7 to 11, No. 1, $28, an advance of $1. the same under 7, No. 1, $25, an advance of $1. Pickets, rough pointed, $.0 an advance of 50 cents; pickets, rough, square, $18, an advance of 50 cents. All other classes and kinds remain unchanged.

Illegal Fishing.

Knowing that the trout law was being violated along all the fresh water streams of Sonoma and Marin counties, last Sunday a Deputy U. S. Marshal and another officer visited Paper Mill creek at the instigation of the Petaluma Sportsman's Club. They detected one fisherman in the act of catching trout and arrested him. He acknowledged his guilt, was given a full benefit, and allowed to return home minus fifty dollars. Salmon, Sonoma, Adobe, San Antonio, Schlicker's and other creeks will all be visited by the officers and arrests made and prosecutions will follow. The club means business and will see that the law is enforced at all hazards.—Courier.

COUNTY CULLINGS.

The body of an Italian was found in an old log cabin near Guernville last Monday. Death is supposed to have resulted from natural causes.

Ernest Soule, who was killed by the cars at New Orleans on the 24th ult., was a son of Andrew Soule of Healdsburg. He was on his way home from Cincinnati, where he had recently graduated from a medical college.

The body of an Indian with his throat cut was found in Russian River, near Cloverdale on Friday of last week. The supposition is that poor Lo was murdered and his body consigned to the river to hide all traces of the crime.

J. E. Hall of Santa Rosa has brought suit against I. De Turk for $10,000 damages. De Turk operates a large winery in that city and runs the refuse matter into a creek which runs past Hall's private dwelling and during hot weather the decomposed matter renders the place almost uninhabitable.

Polk Cannon, residing on Fifth street, while wielding an ax Monday morning, sustained a deep and painful wound in his thigh. The blade was turned by the force of its descent or careless handling and made a deep incision in the fleshy part of the thigh seven inches in length.—Santa Rosa Democrat.

The management of the Petaluma cannery show a spirit of progressiveness, and new and extensive improvements are soon to be commenced on the premises to accommodate the increased business expected during the coming picking season. During the hight of the packing season the company will be in a position to give employment to all who may apply.—Imprint.

Issac E. Young died at his home south of this city Saturday afternoon from the result of measles. The deceased was a native of New Hampshire, aged 54 years. He came to California in 1870 and took up his residence in Butte county. In 1883 he moved with his family to this city and purchased a home south of the creek, where he continued to reside up to the time of his death.—Santa Rosa Democrat.

Last Thursday the little 3-year-old son of George Morshead of this city, narrowly escaped being drowned. The little fellow wandered out on the street, where some workmen were engaged in digging a ditch for the new sewer. One of the men passing near found him struggling in the deep water and rescued the child just in time to prevent a sad occurrence. When the man carried his wet burden home, the shock to the parents can well be imagined.—Santa Rosa Republican.

A dispatch from Cloverdale states that the body of James Trul, who was drowned while attempting to cross Russian River at Squaw Rock on February 5th last, was found Sunday by an Indian. On his person was $19 and a certificate of deposit in the Cloverdale Banking and Commercial Company for $40, which was the means of identifying the corpse, as otherwise he was mortified beyond recognition. The body was brought to Cloverdale to be forwarded to San Rafael, where he formerly resided. He was aged about fifty years. His wife, living in San Rafael, is left some property.

A Reprieve for the Condemned.

Wretched men and woman long condemned to suffer the tortures of dyspepsia, are filled with new hope after a few doses of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This budding hope blossoms into the fruition of certainty if the Bitters is persisted in. It brings a reprieve to all dyspeptics who seeks its aid. Flatulence, heartburn, sinking at the pit of the stomach between meals, the nervous tremors and insomnia of which chronic indigestion is the parent, disappear with their hateful progenitor. Most beneficent of stomachics! who can wonder that in so many instances it awakens grateful eloquence in those who, benefitted by it, speak voluntarily in its behalf. It requires a graphic pen to describe the torments of dyspepsia, but in many of the testimonials received by the proprietors of the Bitters, these are portrayed with vivid truthfulness. Constipation, biliousness, muscular debility, malarial fevers and rheumatism are relieved by it.

The Winters Divorce Case.

The divorce case of T. P. Winters vs. Annie Winters has at last been settled. The plaintiff is granted a divorce and the defendant allowed $500 for counsel fees, $60 per month during her lifetime and a charge upon the real estate.

How Men Die.

If we know all the methods of approach adopted by an enemy we are the better enabled to ward off the danger and postpone the moment when surrender becomes inevitable. In many instances the inherent strength of the body suffices to enable it to oppose the tendency toward death. Many however have lost these forces to such an extent that there is little or no help. In other cases a little aid to the weakened Lungs will make all the difference between sudden death and many years of useful life. Upon the first symptoms of a Cough, Cold or any trouble of the Throat or Lungs' give that old and well-known remedy, Boschee's German Syrup, a careful trial. It will prove what thousands say of it to be, the "benefactor of any home."

We are happy to state that the school lot on Liberty and Keller streets, recently selected by the Boards of Education and City Trustees, has been paid for and the work of erecting the building will soon be commenced. If any members of the Boards mentioned wishes to make an ascension we believe we can assure him that the Big Gate will be open.

W. T. Edwards, who lives at Penns Grove, Vallejo township, has the trees and is now setting out twenty acres in olives. He has before going into the business thoroughly posted and satisfied himself that he can make his olive orchard a success. We don't believe that a better location could have been selected. We wish Mr. Edwards the most unlimited success in his olive culture.

Farm and dairy prospects in Sonoma and Marin counties are very promising. The last of the old crop of potatoes is being rapidly brought into market and shipped to San Francisco and other points on this coast. Much of the grain for this year's crop, especially of wheat, has been planted and looks promising. Last week Mr Wiswell of Vallejo township brought to our office bunches of both wheat and barley two feet in length.

There is a man living not a hundred miles from this city who has been married a half a dozen times more or less, and who recently married a young girl after having proposed to and been rejected by some half dozen others. He certainly believed in and practiced the old adage, "If at first you don't succeed presevere, presevere." He will never die of a broken heart, and his loyalty to the dead will never impress one with its greatness.

Who is Your Best Friend.

Your stomach of course. Why? Because if it is out of order you are one of the most miserable creatures living. Give it a fair honorable chance and see if it is not the best friend you have in the end. Don't smoke in the morning. Don't drink in the morning. If you must smoke and drink wait until your stomach is through with breakfast. You can drink more and smoke more in the evening and it will tell on you less. If your food ferments and does not digest right,—if you are troubled with Heartburn, Dizziness of the head, coming up of the food after eating, Biliousness, Indigestion, or any other trouble of the stomach, you had best use Green's August Flower, as no person can use it without immediate relief.

CONSTIPATION

IS called the "Father of Diseases," because there is no medium through which disease so often attacks the system as by the absorption of poisonous gases in the retention of decayed and effete matter in the stomach and bowels. It is caused by a Torpid Liver, not enough bile being excreted from the blood to produce Nature's own cathartic, and is generally accompanied with such results as

Loss of Appetite,
Sick Headache,
Bad Breath, etc.

The treatment of Constipation does not consist merely in unloading the bowels. The medicine must not only act as a purgative, but be a tonic as well, and not produce after its use greater costiveness. To secure a regular habit of body without changing the diet or disorganizing the system

"My attention, after suffering with Constipation for two or three years, was called to Simmons Liver Regulator, and, having tried almost everything else, concluded to try it. I first took a wineglassful and afterwards reduced the dose to a teaspoonful, as per directions, after each meal. I found that it had done me so much good that I continued it until I took two bottles. Since then I have not experienced any difficulty. I keep it in my house and would not be without it, but have no use for it, it having cured me."—GEO. W. SIMS, Asst Clerk Superior Court, Bibb Co., Ga.

BATHTUBS ON WHEELS.

A Paris Luxury Suggested for Introduction Into New York.

"Talking about new enterprises springing up here," said a gentleman to a reporter, "why there are thousands of schemes yet untried that you will be hearing of some time. Now there is the Parisian bath, for instance. Do you know how the Parisians pursue the practice said to be next to godliness?"

Having received the reporter's admission of innocence as to the subject, the gentleman continued: "Well, to begin with, exceedingly few houses in Paris, except the big hotels, have bathrooms. You might conclude from this statement that the Parisians are not particularly fond of bathing. But they are, and now I will tell you how they do it. We will suppose you are a Parisian living comfortably in a suite. Moreover we will suppose you take a morning bath every day in the year. Now all that is necessary for you to do is to leave your order at a bathing establishment and a man will come at the specified hour with a shining, roomy tub and deposit it near your bed. Then he will bring in a copper cylinder-shaped oven containing what they call a peignoir, which is thus kept warm until you put it on after stepping out of the tub. The man covers the bottom and sides of the tub with a sheet, and then fills the tub with water of the proper temperature, which he brings with him in his cart, a peculiar looking vehicle, by the way, resembling about as much as anything a gayly painted oblong boiler on wheels. Having thus prepared the bath, he adds one finishing stroke to it by dropping into the steaming water a considerable quantity of bathing powder, which serves as a skin tonic, and at the same time emits a lovely perfume, suggesting resinous odors of the woods. The man now withdraws for an hour and leaves you to enjoy your delicious ablutions.

"You emerge from the bath in half an hour feeling like an entirely new man. It seems as though the exhilarating perfume of the water has entered your very soul. You step lightly out of the tub and slip on the warm peignoir as though it were a linen duster, which it slightly resembles, and by means of which you do not get to shivering while you are drying yourself.

"That is the way the Parisians bathe. This kind of bath costs three francs (60 cents) in Paris. In New York it should not cost more than half that sum. I think it a very good system to introduce in this city, and I have had some idea myself of starting an establishment of the kind. It possesses superior advantages for the people who do not live in houses where there are bathrooms. And the medicinal benefits of this powder stirred in the water are a great thing in addition to the fragrant quality it imparts. And then another advantage is that the tub is brought to you and everything is prepared. You can step out of bed in the morning into your tub and have a splendid scrub before dressing. For the reasons I have mentioned I am sanguine that the Parisian style of bathing would prove very popular in New York."—New York Evening World.

The Science of Hypnotism.

The science of hypnotism, not long age sneered at and ignored by medical men, has secured at last an astonishing recognition from them. The medical thinkers of France are now considering it as one of their most reliable means of producing results that are out of the reach of their ordinary remedies. They lately made in Paris a number of very successful experiments upon children from the house of refuge, some of whom were supposed to be irreclaimably bad. They were hypnotized, and while in this condition they were enjoined to obey their teachers, to study, to keep themselves clean and to stop swearing and lying, habits which the refuge wardens had asserted could not be abandoned by their depraved charges.

The influence of the hypnotism lasted for months, and the boys that had been influenced were changed during that time from troublesome prisoners to pupils of most exemplary conduct. One of the boys who was hypnotized had been a leader among his companions in all sorts of unruly and immoral behavior. The change in him was so radical after the hypnotism that it frightened both himself and his companions, and having reasoned about his conversion he absolutely refused to submit to the mesmeric passes again when the physicians wanted to repeat the experiment.—Physician in Globe-Democrat.

A Mandarin's Gratitude.

A missionary of the American board stationed at the China inland mission, writes to the home office in Boston of an odd incident. A Chinese mandarin recently gave an entertainment and presented a valuable testimonial to the Christian hospital, ont of gratitude for medical services rendered to his aged father. The son was absent on duty, and the father was cured of a sickness which was supposed to be fatal. While the old gentleman was at the worst the wife of the absent son, acting in place of her husband, performed an act supposed to propitiate heaven and to secure the restoration of her father-in-law.

With her own hand she cut a piece of flesh from her arm, had it cooked and administered it to the patient. On the son's return his gratitude to the missionaries was boundless. He had prepared a memorial tablet, eight feet by four, which was suitably inscribed. This was hung from a bamboo pole, and carried by two men, preceded by a band of musicians. As they approached the house big bunches of firecrackers were fired, and the tablet was presented with much ceremony.—Chicago Times.

The Color of the Eyes.

Extensive researches into the heredity of eye colors have led M. Alphonse de Candolle to consider it certain that women have a larger proportion of brown eyes than men; that where both parents have eyes of the same color the chances are eighty-eight to twelve that the children who reach the age of 10 years (when the colors of the eyes are fixed) will have eyes of the same color; and that where the parents have eyes of different colors the chances are forty-five in favor of brown as against blue or gray for the children. He claims that brown eyes are more favorable to health and longevity than the blonde types.—Arkansaw Traveler,

"Very often."

"Yes, indeed. When we gets the hic coughs mamma gets sorry and tries to cure 'em; but when papa gets the hic coughs she gets mad."—Omaha World.
